

02.05.2009 11:21 am

Valentine's Getaway No. 9: If the fire's gone out, there's the Hotel Preston in Nashville, Tenn.

By Tom Uhlenbrock
St. Louis Post-Dispatch

While many hotels are offering Valentine's Day packages, Hotel Preston in Nashville has something for the lovers whose fire has gone out.

The "I Do, I Did, I'm Done" package is for couples who need a little extra help with their divorce.

The package includes a one-hour consultation with a family lawyer of your choice, a conference room for mediation, separate rooms on opposite ends of the hotel and added deposit for damage.

The "Ooey Goey Love Package" can be added for one last fling.

If you want to rekindle the romance, the hotel has a "Seven Deadly Sins Package" that includes sexy adult amenities, a bottle of wine, a signature cake, a do not disturb sign, early check in, two keepsake bath robes and a luxury bath kit.

Pricing for the romance package begin at $149. Divorce, as usual, is more expensive, beginning at $411.

Visit www.hotelpreston.com.